This photo was carried by my dad your brother Henry for many years. As I watched tonight to see you one last time it brought back a lot of memories of your trips back to RI it was always a joy to see you and auntie. You would always ask to see my hands and joke as to why I didn't write more often.

“ As one of my longest living memories, I never have and never will forget our conversation in the kitchen. Sitting in the high-backed chair with arm rests, you entertained me with war stories and how you made it home because you are the king. "I am King Arthur!" you would say. "No one can stop the king." I will forever miss your stories and throwing the baseball around with you. I am grateful to see you one last time, even if it's from the other side of the world. May your mind, body, and spirit be forever free from the pain, suffering, and torment you've known for so long. Don't forget, for we shall never forget you. I've missed you for so long and I'll miss you a little longer. You shall live in our hearts and memories until we see you again. Until then, it is finally time to say, "Goodbye."

“ Dad was smiling from ear to ear when he was around family. Especially all the grand and great and great-great grandchildren. Dad always gave the dinner prayer at the holiday dinner table. He brought perspective to everyone with his words and his belief in God being our savior.
