“ Today, on what would have been Carol's 72 birthday I learned she had passed in January. I'm very saddened by this news. We had a fun and close friendship in grade school. She was quiet, but funny. We ate lunch with our fun bunch and played all the games during recess non stop. Too much energy. We sat on my porch and talked and talked when the weather was good. I have dear, sweet memories of Carol. I will include her in my memorial rosary for friends and family.

“ One of my favorite stories to share with Carol, and others, was my perspective of the day in 1965 when she and a friend went to see the Beatles. I was a curious, and wide-eyed 7 year old as I watched Carol and her friend spend the entire day getting ready for the concert. They meticulously applied make up and used lots of hair spray to build up their tall and elegant updos. I was so excited when my Dad said I could go along as he gave them a ride to the Arena in downtown Milwaukee, and even more so when I was able to ride along to pick them up. I was amazed at the fact that the hair dos they worked on all day on were down! The eyeliner they applied so perfectly was smudged! When they got in the car they each cried out "I'll never wash my hand again!" ..... "I touched their limo!" What a classic memory of Carol.

“ Carol was our "across the alley neighbor" for over 30 years. If ever our garage door was left open, Carol would be sure to let us know with a phone call! How thankful we are for her calls. In warmer weather, we had talks about what was going on in the neighborhood and our families. She was always so proud of her children and grandchildren. Carol went thru a lot of physical challenges in the past few years. Although she was not out as often as before, in her backyard, when we did see each other, we were inspired by her positive spirit. Our family, including our 2 dogs, will truly miss our "lookout" neighbor.
