“ In memory of Calroline Joyce a life well lived in faith and love . Carol's life spanned times of dramatic change and she embraced opportunities to do good. A few come to mind. Nursing was a profession and passion for CZarol and her early work in Psychiatric and then Hospice nursing Carol brought care, respect and compassion to people who had been isolated from health care. In her role in utilization review she oversaw care patients received and advocated for patient care . Another “novel” role was her last one in nursing as remote “coach” supporting patients with chronic disease to empower them to improve their health and wellness . All of these roles were patient centered and enhanced the impact of nursing in lasting ways . Faith was very much a part of who Carol was and how she lives on. She actively participated in the church and parish life throughout periods of significant change within the Catholic Church . Through participation in the mass, education, spiritual retreat and marital enrichment programs led with Ted. A living memorial of Caroline is in the care and respect and love manifest in the care from Charmaine , Chuck, Elizabeth especially . She spoke to me of the joy and deep meaning that came from seeing what she. Intentionally brought t to her life manifest in her children , grandchildren and others I will miss you very very much . I am so very grateful to have known you and will continue to recognize you in all you have given in life. Julie
