“ He was so up-beat. When I feel “down,” it helps to visualize faces of positive people. The group of faces is long, and Collin, is on that list. I only got to see him every now and then, but it was always a wonderful experience. He always shared about how much he loves his family. - Mike Foster, Consultant

“ One of the small comforts to be found in the passing of my dear friend Collin is the strength of his loving family. As long as my memory serves me I recall Nadine and Collin constructing a very beautiful island. We were fortunate to land there a bit and enjoy their love of family and friends.

To be sure, over the years their island was under constant building and enhanced with the arrival of their children. No matter what game we were watching or story we were sharing over lunch, Collin was always on the ready to get back to the island he found so integral to his being.

I thank God for my good fortune of having such a gracious and humble friend. He will be with me at every game and in the small hours of the day - where mortal men summon the courage to weep like children.

God Bless us all,

Kevin

“ Collin was not just a colleague but a friend. I think he cared more about how I bowled more than I did. He was one of my favorite people to ever know and we will all miss him dearly. Throw a 300 up there my friend. I know you got those Schlegel grips!

“ So very sorry to hear of Collin's passing. He was a good guy and always enjoyed hanging out with him at my brother Mike's house on Christmas and other family get togethers. Know that you are all in our thoughts and prayers as you grieve your loss.
