“ I knew George and his wife Cheri for about the last 10 years or so. He was always cheerful, loving, kind, considerate, thoughtful and most of all "Thankful". He was so appreciative and grateful for anything and everything that was in his life and anything anyone did for him. He was a kind, caring husband to his wife Cheri. He always complimented her and looked after her in a deep loving way. Although George had health problems late in his life, he always took it in stride, never complaining about it and always hopeful in the Lord. I will truly miss George and his enthusiasm for life! Cheri and family, you are in my prayers.
