

Jason E. Roberts "Jay" "Fudge"

July 4, 2017

Jason Earl Roberts, "Jay" or "Fudge", left this world unexpectedly on July 4th, 2017 at the age of 36, due to a massive heart attack.

Jason was born in Milwaukee, WI on November 6th, 1980. He attended Bay View High School (Outpost) and continued to learn many skills at the School of Hard Knocks including glass-blowing, carpentry, sand-blasting, tree removal, computer repair/building, car sales, fish tank maintenance/building/designing, cable installation, real estate sales and many more.

Jason was a dreamer. He finally realized his goal to be self-employed after supporting his wife's goal of becoming a pharmacist, however, he wasn't exactly sure what he wanted to do. Every day he had a new idea and a new passion. One life-long passion of Jason's was music. He could play any instrument (except harmonica to his dismay), but the drums were his favorite. If he wasn't playing, he was listening to every kind of music imaginable (except newer "pop" music, that's just terrible). Jason recently developed an obsession with motorcycles. Every day revolved around the weather, who wanted to go for a ride and when the next trip was. It was always about enjoying the ride and not worrying about what the destination was. Jason loved his dogs, Duke and Tank, as well as his multitudes of fish (yes, they do all have names). Jason also loved weapons, particularly his knives, which are too numerous to mention specifically. Lastly, Jason loved freedom and 'Murica. Now he is truly free.

Jason was the person you went to when you needed a heavy object moved, a listening ear, a good "Dad joke", an opinion (on anything), a problem solved, a hug, a fight broken up, a confidence boost, a conspiracy theory, a smile, a secret kept, a shoulder to cry on, a best friend or a soul mate.

Jason was the beloved husband (bubby) of Dr. Cassandra Roberts for almost 9 years, father of Xaviar, Duke and Tank, son of Diane and the late James, brother of Rob, son-in-law of Bryan and Marlene Narewski and brother-in-law of Joseph (Shannon). He is also survived by many other family members and friends.

In lieu of flowers, memorials to the family are appreciated.

No one here gets out alive. We live, we die and death not ends it. ~ Jim Morrison

“ Most of my memories from my adolescence in some way were shared with Fudge. I loved to watch him and all our friends (that were musically inclined) jam in his mom's basement, (his mom and Skip putting up with all of us round there), skateboarding around the streets, hanging in his garage listening to Green Day or playing football in Adam's park. Most days we (as a group) spent together and certainly most weekends. He played such a massive part in my life. And even after I moved away to England, he dropped everything to pop round my parent's house to visit when I made my trips home. He was a truly great guy that will be missed by so many because he was loved by so many.
I am sorry that I can't make it back for the funeral.
My deepest condolences to his wife (whom I was never fortunate enough to meet), Xavier and the rest of his family and friends for you will feel his absence the most.
Big hugs and lots of love to you all

Love April Archer

P.S. I didn't use his mom's name because we never did, we all called her ma too.

“ Our deepest sympathy to you Cassandra, I can not even comprehend the pain you are enduring at this time. You, Jason's parents, and Xavier are in our thoughts and prayers at the loss of your beloved husband, a wonderful son to his parents, and Xavier loss of his father/best friend. Jason was such a happy go lucky kid when Paul and I know him, and that happy go lucky kid grew into such a wonderful, kind and loving man. You will be missed dearly Jason, rest in peace!

“ Like a Son..... Fudge and Ryan(my son) were good friends growing up and I was called Mom. Fudge had the biggest smile and happiest laughter with those squish able cheeks. Best kid and wonderful man. Forever in my heart young man. Mrs Z (aka Mom)
