“ I am so proud of my brother Julio Cruz. He was one fun loving, uniquely smart, caring and giving individual. He wanted peace and happiness around him. He was a great brother, even if we didn't see eye to eye all the time, I always respected and honored Julio. It breaks my heart that I can't just call you and ask your opinion or advice, but I know you will watch over your baby sister from heaven. Life will never be the same!!! I love my brother and I will cherish all of our memories.
Love your sister Mercy Cruz

“ When I think about my brother Julio, I think about kindness. One of the most beautiful qualities a person can have is kindness. It has nothing to do with physical appearance, although he was handsome as well, but it is an internal virtue that expresses itself externally towards others. We are naturally drawn to kind people and this is why so many people loved him. He was a bright light in this dark world. Having a kindfull heart means God will be kind to you and have mercy. I'm missing my brother so bad right now, but I know that he is in Gods arms. Love him always!

“I saw my cousin as my brother. I felt protected by him growing up. I never had doubt of my safety when he was around. We had the same friends as kids. We had crushes on each others friends. I don't remember any bad times with him. I am missing him so much. We had tried to get the family together before thanksgiving for a packer game but then I got sick and we had to reschedule which never happened. I am mad about that. Mad at myself but I know he forgives me. Man! It really sucks cause I know we should of had much longer to share life with. Vacations. Family get togethers. And of course being support for each other during family crisis. We're supposed be there for each other when our parents pass not one if us. I'm sad. I'm missing my brother and all the time we could of had. Love you Julio more than you will ever know.
