“ Leah is one of my oldest friends over 40 years. I've known her all my life we were best friends growing up and we had a great childhood. I wish I would never abandon our friendship because I had to do the grown up thing and do grown up stuff like work and life and family. I'm going to do everything I can to be there for your son when I can and take him places that he enjoys. I promise you that I'm going to help you more than now than ever. I hope you're at peace no more pain and you're harder in your soul or your body. I'll miss you forever. I'll never forget all the good times that we've had together growing up.
