“ Matthew you always be my knight in shining armour. You saved me from myself, you always seen the best in me, and reminded me of who I was before "life" happened. We never knew each other in our darker points of life, and I'm so fortunate to have had the wonderful years I had with you. The early years, and the present. We believed in each other babe, you will always be my babeface. I will also probably post a million of these on here... sorry.
