“ Ever since the pandemic struck, I've been less social even with family and close friends so I won't be there Tuesday to share reminisces, grief, to say goodbye or give you all my sincere sympathies but I'll be thinking of you all day as I have been thinking of Millie over the years. I met Millie at Tippe Library long ago while she was temporarily assigned there but then we lost touch until after we were retired and southeast interfaith brought us back together as driver and client. I spend many nice days driving her to and from her therapy and we had great conversations then which I really missed when she stopped going out for therapy. I've thought of her often and hope she was happy these past years as being around her made others like me happy too.. I'll miss her even more now as I know all who knew her will. Again, my deepest sympathies to all her family and so sorry I can't give you this message in person.
