“ Where does a person begin Stevie was something different as we all know but it was a good difference he makes grown up in Milwaukee something special we grew up together he was my next door neighbor and there's a lot of stories I could tell but to try and just pick one out very hard to do he love to talk and he had one hell of a memory I stopped and seen him several years ago and I was like it was yesterday I am sad to hear that he passed away but it sounds like he went quick and did not suffer and for that I thank God he's now with his family in heaven
Until we meet again old friend God bless you
